Michael Robbins, third year Biomedical Sciences student tells us about his experience of using Graduate Connections.

“I first heard about Graduate Connections during various careers talks throughout my first and second year but didn't pay much attention to what it was or how helpful it could be! Now I am in my third year and starting to look for graduate employment, contacts within the areas of work you are interested in are often quite hard to find! Graduate Connections makes it so easy to find and contact alumni that are working within your area of interest.

Using the different sector options, I was able to find lots of graduates working within the scientific field. I could see their career path, typical working day and read some great tips from many different graduates and I even found a graduate who was on the Unilever Future Leaders Program - the graduate scheme I was interested in applying for! Contacting them was easy and I received replies from all those I contacted within a few days.

Graduate Connections even has a search function so you can search for a specific company and can see all the graduates who have worked or are currently working for that company!

I would thoroughly recommend Graduate Connections for anyone at any stage of their degree. Whether you are a first year looking at possible careers or a third year looking for specific advice about one company, it is an easy tool and you never know when or where that contact may come in handy!”
