Impact Showcase Event:

Working together: bringing about change

Social science, arts, and humanities researchers at Newcastle University are working together in partnership with a wide range of organisations and communities in the region, and beyond, to bring about change.

This event will showcase some of these partnerships, demonstrating the benefits they have achieved for individuals, organisations and society. The event will provide opportunities to network and make connections with researchers and partner organisations. There will be talks, exhibitions, an information corner, and a few surprises.

Come and explore how we can work together to bring about change.

For enquiries, please email: hass.researchteam@ncl.ac.uk
12.30-13.00  Registration opens
Lunch, Marketplace & Networking

13.00-13.10  Welcome
by Professor Richard Davies (Pro-Vice-Chancellor, Engagement & Internationalisation) & Professor Julie Sanders (Pro-Vice-Chancellor, Faculty of Humanities & Social Sciences)

13.10-13.30  Theatre Performance
The Town Meeting: Theatre & Planning Engagement, by Brad McCormick & Katy Vanden (Cap-a-Pie)

13.30-14.35  Presentations:
Chair: Vee Pollock (Director, Newcastle University Institute for Creative Arts Practice)
Co-producing an Authentic Community Curriculum Project, by Ed Snelders (West Jesmond Primary School), David Leat & Ulrike Thomas (School of Education, Communication & Language Sciences), Sally Waite (School of History, Classics & Archaeology)

DIY Streets Fenham: a Participatory Approach to the Co-Production of Urban Space, by Councillor Marion Talbot (Newcastle City Council), Mark Pardoe (local resident), Daniel Mallo (School of Architecture, Planning & Landscape)

Realising New Commons, by Duncan Mackay (Natural England) & Chris Rodgers (School of Law)

Sustainable Production for Global Supply Chains: A Collaboration with the Flower Valley Conservation Trust in South Africa, by Alex Hughes (School of Geography, Politics & Sociology)

14.35-15.15  Refreshments
Marketplace & Networking

15.15-15.45  Panel Discussion:
Chair: Matthew Grenby (Director, Newcastle University Humanities Research Institute)
Panel members: Rose Gilroy (School of Architecture, Planning & Landscape); Janice McLaughlin (School of Geography, Politics & Sociology); Mary Nicholls (The Elders Council); Richard Snell (IBM UK Ltd); Liz Todd (School of Education, Communication & Language Sciences); Adrian Waddell (NE1)

15.45-16.55  Presentations:
Chair: Liz Todd (Deputy Director, Newcastle Institute for Social Renewal)

DemTalk, DemYouth and Ticket to Talk – enhancing communication between people living with dementia and younger people who care for them, by Leon Mexter (Youth Focus North East), Sam Bell & Nadia Zemouri (DemYouth Young People's Steering Group), Tony Young (School of Education, Communication & Language Sciences), John Vines (School of Computing Science)

The Vital North Partnership (+ 20 other ways Newcastle University and Seven Stories are Collaborating), by Rachel Smith (Vital North Partnership), Helen Limon (School of English Literature, Language & Linguistics)

Destination Tyneside. Gaining a deeper insight/understanding into visitor responses to histories of migration, by Kylea Little (Tyne & Wear Archives & Museums), Rhiannon Mason (School of Arts & Cultures)

All Eyes: the Poetry of Policing, by Vera Baird, QC (Police & Crime Commissioner for Northumbria), Linda Anderson (School of English Literature, Language & Linguistics), with poetry by Christy Ducker

16.55-17.00  Closing Remarks by Professor Daniel Zizzo (Dean of Research & Innovation, Faculty of Humanities & Social Science)

17.00-18.00  Drinks Reception, Marketplace & Networking
Music by Balter