5th October - 16th November 2017
Thursday sessions 6pm - 7.30pm

RB Green Lecture Theatre, Newcastle University, Medical School

Thurs 5 October  Dr Gavin Oxburgh
Helping the police with their enquiries: the role of Forensic Psychology

Thurs 12 October  Professor Louise Robinson
Dementia: forget about a cure, focus on care

Thurs 19 October  Professor Andy Husband
Prescribing - the good, the bad and the ugly

HALF TERM BREAK

Thurs 2 November  Dr Neil Sheerin and Dr Colin Wilson
Kidney Transplantation; past, present and future

Thurs 9 November  Dr Matthias Schmid, Dr Ewan Hunter and Dr Christopher Duncan
Sex, drugs and rock ‘n’ roll

Thurs 16 November  Dr Keith Wu, Dr Rob Ellis and Dr Neil Rajan
Skinny dipping: why you shouldn’t expose your “largest organ” to the sun

To book your place for the full series of Thursday evening lectures please visit www.ncl.ac.uk/mms

Saturday 11th November 2017

Practical sessions will take place in the areas of Medical Clinical Skills, Biomedical Sciences, Dentistry or Psychology.

Places for these sessions are limited. You will be informed when booking is open for these sessions.

The Mini Medical School is kindly funded by a grant from Merck Sharpe & Dohme