Extensive training is also provided in appropriate research methods. The use of case studies during the programme also aids understanding by encouraging students to consider the context(s) within which management operates.

Assessment Strategy

Knowledge of the subject is assessed formatively through discussions, case studies, group exercises, role play etc. Summative assessments are in the form of individual assignments (A1, A2, A4, A5, A6, A7, A8, A9), group assignments (A2, A3, A4, A5, A9), Individual presentations (A2, A5) Group presentations (A2, A4) multiple choice exams (A5) seen exam (A6, A7, A8) and unseen exams (A3, A6, A7, A8).

reinforced and developed.

Assessment Strategy

Formative assessments of these skills are by means of tutor and peer group feedback. Participants also carry out a significant level of self-assessment which is encouraged during tutorials, seminars, etc. Summative assessment is through individual and group assignments, presentations and examinations.

Practical Skills

On completing the programme students should be able to demonstrate:

- C7 Learning through reflection

Teaching and Learning Methods

Cognitive skills are developed through lectures, group discussions, group activities/exercises and independent study. All cognitive skills are exercised significantly during the production of assignments and especially during the research and production of the dissertation. C1, C2 and C4 are also experienced during examinations. The teaching/learning methods employed recognise the range of experience that participants bring to the programme and aim to encourage and sharing of that experience. They also encourage participants to develop a self managed approach to learning and the ability to work as part of a group or independently, as appropriate.

Assessment Strategy

These skills are formatively assessed through discussions, case studies, group activities, role play etc. Summative assessments are in the form of individual/group and dissertation.

Transferable/Key Skills

On completing the programme students should be able to demonstrate:

- D1 The ability to communicate effectively by means of written and oral methods.

D3 The ability to conduct research into business and management issues using quantitative and qualitative methods.

D4 The ability to work independently, showing creativity and initiative.

D5 Numeracy and quantitative skills

Teaching and Learning Methods

Key skills are introduced to participants in sessions throughout the induction period and within modules of the programme. D1 and D2 are developed through group discussions/activities/exercises and through production of assignments. Oral communication skills are developed specifically through presentations. D3 is developed by the extensive training provided in research methods and exercised by participants in the production of the dissertation. D4 is developed by the production of the individual assignments and particularly by the dissertation. D5 is developed through specific programme outcomes embedded in modules (A5, A9)

Assessment Strategy

D3 is assessed through the dissertation. Attainment of all other key skills outcomes is not directly assessed but is seen as ancillary to the production of assessed work – the performance of communication skills, planning and organising is a necessary precondition for meeting other intended learning outcomes. It follows, therefore, that it is not possible to graduate without meeting the key skills outcomes.

Curriculum evaluations

An evaluation form is issued to all propaedeutic students halfway through their first year and to all students who have gained their Bachelor's or Master's degree. The results are published once a year (in May/June). Programme directors are responsible for follow-up.

Curriculum audit

Every six years, a degree programme's curriculum is reviewed by an internal committee to see how the degree programme can be improved. The curriculum audit is conducted in accordance with the accreditation requirements.

Accreditation

According to the Act on Accreditation on Higher Education of 2002, all degree programmes offered by Universities and Universities of Professional Education are evaluated according to established criteria and programmes that meet those criteria are accredited, i.e. recognized. #### The University of Groningen

The University of Groningen uses the common marking scheme for Dutch higher education. Dutch grades range from 1 (very poor) to 10 (excellent); the minimum passing grade is 6. Transcripts will usually only give rounded grades (above x.5 is rounded up and below x.5 is rounded down). For exams and course work, grades are mostly unrounded. The Dutch grading system is listed in the table below:

10	excellent
9	very good
8	good
7	very satisfactory
6	pass
5	almost satisfactory
4	unsatisfactory
3	very unsatisfactory
2	poor

1	very poor
---	-----------

The rules and regulations concerning the teaching and assessment of the degree programmes offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business are set out in the Faculty's Teaching and Examination Regulations (including the purpose and format of the degree programme; design of the degree programme; language of instruction; examinations and final assessments; required qualifications; etc.). See

<http://www.rug.nl/feb/informatievoor/studenten/Studiegidsen>

Reassessment of Taught Modules

If a student fails to achieve a pass or what they deem to be a satisfactory mark on an assignment they are given one opportunity to submit a reparation assignment, thereby giving the student the opportunity to replace the unsatisfactory grade with a higher grade.

If a student resits an examination then the highest grade counts.

Modules with Dual Recognition

For those modules receiving dual recognition and the joint dissertation an agreed inter-institutional marking scheme has been agreed upon, whereby the common marking schemes have been mapped against each other.
