Free academic English support for Newcastle University students
A welcome message from the In-Sessional English Programme Manager

We are delighted to welcome you to Newcastle University. The In-Sessional English team is here to help you achieve your full potential in your academic subject.

The purpose of the English support that we offer is to bridge the gap between general English and the academic English needed to succeed in UK university life. Depending on your score in the University English Language Assessment (UELA), you will be able to attend up to eight hours of support classes each week. All of this support is free and aims to help you achieve your full academic potential. Make sure you take full advantage of it!

We offer courses that range from lecture-style to workshop-format, covering reading, writing, listening and speaking. We also offer 1-to-1 writing tutorials, where you can meet a teacher for 25 minutes to discuss specific problems that you are encountering with your written assignments. For further details about the specific support available to you, please refer to the contents list on the opposite page.

We wish you all the best with your studies and hope you enjoy your time in Newcastle.

The UELA (University English Language Assessment)

What is it?

What is the UELA?
All students at Newcastle University can access support for their academic English through either the In-Sessional English Programme or the University’s Writing Development Centre. The UELA is an English language assessment which is designed to determine which of these types of support is most suitable for you.

What do the UELA results mean?
The UELA does not affect entry onto your Degree Programme. You will be given two scores: one for listening and one for writing.

<td>2</td>
<td>The language support provided by the In-Sessional Programme is suitable for your level of English. We still recommend you take classes; you are likely to need some support.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&gt; 69</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>You don’t need to take classes. We do offer level 3 Listening and Speaking classes, but we do not offer writing classes for students at this level. For writing support, you can attend the University’s Writing Development Centre. www.ncl.ac.uk/students/wdc/</td>

Criteria for exemption from the UELA

Completion of an INTO Newcastle University preparatory programme, including Pre-Sessional English, English for University Study, International Foundation, International Diploma, or Graduate Diploma within the last two years.

Taken the UELA at any time since September 2014

Achieved one of the following results within the last two years:
- IELTS: 7.0 (or above) in all four skills
- Integrated Skills in English – Trinity College London: ISE III or ISE IV
- Continuation of study on a Degree Programme at a Newcastle University campus overseas, such as NUMed or NUIS
- Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English, Grade A or B
- Cambridge Advanced Certificate, Grade A
- GCSE, AS or A level in English or English Language, Grade C or above

Successful completion of an undergraduate degree (with a 2:1 or higher) or a postgraduate degree completed within the last 12 months in one of the countries listed below:
- Antigua and Barbuda, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Canada, Dominica, Grenada, Guyana, Ireland, Jamaica, New Zealand, St Kitts and Nevis, St Lucia, St Vincent and the Grenadines, Trinidad and Tobago, United Kingdom, United States of America, Trinidad and Tobago, United Kingdom, United States of America

At least five years of secondary / higher education was through the medium of English in one of the countries listed below:
- Anguilla, Aruba, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Canada, Dominica, Grenada, Guyana, Ireland, Jamaica, New Zealand, St Kitts and Nevis, St Lucia, St Vincent and the Grenadines, Trinidad and Tobago, United Kingdom, United States of America

What do I have to?

Do I have to take the UELA?
As stated in the University English Language Policy (www.ncl.ac.uk/regulations/docs/05Generations.pdf), all non-native speakers of English who are arriving at Newcastle University must take the UELA unless they can show evidence that they meet one of the following criteria for exemption:

Where / when?

What do I need to take to the UELA?

Your university smart-card as identification.

How should I register for classes?

We aim to do this within four working days of your UELA result.

How will I get my results?

The email will include your scores, levels and some advice as to which In-Sessional classes are most suitable for you.

What next?

The registration process varies according to the sessions that you would like to attend. Please refer to pages 6 - 8 for details of the support available to you and how to register.

Note: 1. All In-Sessional provision is arranged on a first come, first served basis: the sooner you register, the more likely there will be availability in the classes you wish to join.

What happens if I don’t take the UELA?

Newcastle University takes the language support of non-native speaker students very seriously. If you have not taken the UELA by Friday 23rd October 2015 for Semester 1 registrations or Friday 12th February 2016 for Semester 2 registrations, you will be referred to the University Student Progress department. You will receive daily reminder emails until you have either taken the UELA or obtained an exemption.

What is it?

The UELA does not affect entry onto your Degree Programme.
Will I automatically be registered on a writing course?

If you are studying on one of the following taught Degree Programmes and your Writing score in the UELA is below 70, you will automatically be registered for one of the following writing courses. The writing course will appear on your University timetable. You will also receive an email with the details of the class you should attend.

If the In-Sessional class to which you have been registered takes place at the same time as one of your lectures, please contact your School Administrator.

Credit-Bearing English Modules

You will be advised by your school if you are required to take one of our credit-bearing English modules. The day, time and location of your class will show on your University timetable.

Please note that University regulations state that students with a UELA score of 70 or higher in the relevant skill are not permitted to register for these credit-bearing modules.

Credit-bearing modules available:

- Credit-bearing: Academic Reading and Writing, Part A (INU1004) / INU1014
  - An introduction to written academic English skills which focuses on essay writing

- Credit-bearing: Academic Reading and Writing, Part B (INU1005)
  - Further development of written academic English which provides input on writing up primary research

- Credit-bearing: Listening, Speaking and Presentation Skills (INU1008)
  - An introduction to academic listening and speaking skills which outlines the process of preparing and delivering an academic presentation

- Credit-bearing: Listening, Speaking and Seminar Skills (INU1009)
  - An introduction to academic seminar speaking skills which supports the development of managing small-group discussions

- Credit-bearing: Writing Dissertations for Science & Engineering (INU8001)
  - An introduction to the language and structure of academic dissertations in the fields of Science and Engineering.

Requirements for passing these courses:
All In-Sessional credit-bearing modules have one two-hour class per week. There is a minimum attendance requirement of 75%. Each module has a final exam and / or a piece of coursework. Full details are available in the student handbook on Blackboard.

Semester 1 Class-times:
10 weeks: w/c 10th October 2016 - w/c 12th December 2016
