Through the process of engagement we address global challenges that society faces through our research and education. We pay particular attention to the challenges we face in the places in which we operate and aim to:

- Work closely with regional industries and businesses to address their needs including those related to: research and development; business innovation; and current skill shortages in their workforce and their requirement for appropriately trained graduates through mechanisms such as lifelong learning and professional practice and degree level apprenticeships.

- Be an effective partner for local government, the NHS, the voluntary, community and social enterprise sector, the public and cultural and sports organisations.

- Use our global reach to increase the international connectivity of our region.

- Equip academic and professional staff with the skills to address policy challenges facing governments locally, nationally and internationally.

- Improve the social mobility of people from underrepresented and disadvantaged backgrounds by ensuring our education and research is widely accessible as possible.
