Use of programme handbook

The purpose of this handbook is to provide you with an overview of your Master's degree programme. This handbook should be read in conjunction with the Newcastle University Business School Postgraduate Study Guide. Together, these documents will provide you with a guide to the facilities offered to you both by the School and the wider University and are designed to complement other information provided by the University.

This handbook provides an accurate picture of the programme at the time of writing, but this may be subject to minor change during the course of the academic year. You will be informed of any changes through the appropriate channels.

Your programme

This section aims to provide you with some key information on your degree programme. Generic information relating to postgraduate degrees can be found on the Business School Postgraduate Canvas Community <https://canvas.ncl.ac.uk/login/> in the PG Study Guide.

What will my teaching programme be like in 2020/21?

We want you to get the most out of your teaching and learning and will do everything we can to support you to do so. Your learning opportunities will be made up of a mixture of online and in-person, on-campus activities. In Semester one, as a result of physical distancing requirements, lecture materials will be delivered online as will many tutorials, seminars, workshops and labs. Our plan, where it's possible and safe to do so with 2 meter physical distancing in place, is to deliver up to three hours of in-person labs, seminars, tutorial and workshop teaching per week. We will review this at key points in the Semester and these reviews will inform our approach to Semester two teaching.

We recommend you regularly check the University website for the most up to date information at:

<https://enquire.ncl.ac.uk/>

Induction

There will be a two week Induction for your Postgraduate programme at the start of Semester 1, including sessions with your Degree Programme Director (DPD) and/or your Student Stage Co-ordinator (SSC) and your designated Personal Tutor,. This period is also your opportunity to familiarise yourself with the University, the facilities available and check details such as your timetable. A full schedule will be available on the relevant programme pages in Canvas and published on the Business School Website <https://www.ncl.ac.uk/business/>

About the programme

The Business School's Banking and Finance MSc programme builds on the School's established strengths in economics and finance and has been created in response to the increased growth of the financial services sector. Worldwide growth in the sector has furthered the demand for students with specialist skills and competencies in banking and finance. Closely related to the School's Finance MSc programme, the Banking and Finance degree features a greater number of compulsory modules in central, retail and investment banking. The programme is particularly aimed at those interested in pursuing a career in:

- investment banking
- central banking
- retail banking
- financial research
- financial trading

The programme has many distinctive features, including a mix of compulsory and optional modules, and a supervised dissertation. Candidates are admitted as full-time students. Their period of study is normally 12 months full-time.

Programme Structure

There are two distinct phases of the programme:

Phase 1

This is the core element of the programme representing 120 credits of study and provides you with an in-depth understanding of creativity and creative business and prepares you for later phases of the programme. These compulsory taught modules are detailed below:

Module code	Title	Semester	Credits
NBS8330	Research Methods	1	10
NBS8331	Introductory Econometrics	1	10
NBS8332	Financial Theory	1 and 2	20
NBS8333	Financial Derivatives	1 and 2	20
NBS8203	Retail and Investment Banking	2	10
NBS8257	Applied Econometrics	2	10

Students must choose 40 credits of optional modules, of which between 30 and 40 credits are to be taken from the following list. At least 10 credits of which must be taken in Semester 1 and at least 10 credits in Semester 2.

Module code	Title	Semester	Credits
NBS8018	International Money and Banking	1	10
NBS8335	Corporate Finance	1	10
NBS8201	Risk Modelling	2	10

NBS8111	International Entrepreneurship	2	10
NBS8507	International Marketing	2	10

Phase 2

NBS8020	Dissertation	3	60
-------------------------	--------------	---	----

Dissertation

The dissertation is worth 60 credits and is the opportunity for you to integrate and apply your learning to real-world situations and problems. The dissertation process commences during the first Semester with the compulsory Research Methods sessions. These are designed to lead you through the dissertation process, including the preparation of your research project proposal.

Following preparation of your initial proposal, you will be allocated a supervisor who will provide guidance through the dissertation writing process.

The dissertation is a major piece of work (12,000 words), which will enable you to apply the knowledge and skills developed during the taught element of your degree programme. You will be expected to demonstrate evaluative and analytical ability, gain an in-depth knowledge of the topic and understand the relevance of the context in which the investigation is set. The dissertation will be completed by 1 September 2021.

Degree programme regulations

The Degree Programme Regulations detail the modules to be studied on your Master's degree and any progression requirements, such as the need to pass the taught modules of the degree before proceeding to dissertation. It is important that you read these and make sure you know the requirements of your Master's degree. Degree Programme Regulations are available at:

www.ncl.ac.uk/regulations/programme/2020-2021/nubs.php

Programme specification

A detailed description of the programme structure, programme aims and learning outcomes can be found in the Programme Specification online at www.ncl.ac.uk/regulations/programme/2020-2021/nubs.php

This includes information on the knowledge and understanding, intellectual skills, practical skills and transferable/key skills which you are expected to develop and demonstrate during your studies.

University regulations

It is important that you familiarise yourself with the University Regulations, in particular the Postgraduate (Taught) Progress Regulations and Examination Conventions which detail the regulations for study and award of a Master's degree. This includes conditions for reassessment in failed modules and criteria for eligibility of a Master's award. You are expected to read these and make yourself aware of their implications. <https://www.ncl.ac.uk/regulations/docs>

Postgraduate research

Students who are successful in their Master's programme may wish to consider applying for a PhD with Newcastle University Business School. Newcastle University Alumni may also qualify for a discount on PhD fees. Further details of the research areas covered within the School and details of research programmes are available online at <https://www.ncl.ac.uk/business-school/courses/postgrad-research/>.

Your assessment

The assessment will depend on the individual module. You can expect to be assessed by a variety of means including:

- assignments both individual and group
- presentations
- dissertation

The mix of assessment methods is to allow you to demonstrate your understanding of the knowledge outcomes of the programme and also your assimilation of the skills developed during your Master's programme.

The assessment methods used in individual modules are included in the module outlines. The assessments for the taught modules are summarised in the table below.

Details of assessment deadlines will be provided on the Postgraduate Canvas Community within the first two weeks of term to allow you to plan your workload. You should familiarise yourself with the assignment submission procedures available on the Postgraduate Canvas Community.

Please note that work submitted after the specified deadline, even by just a few minutes, will be treated as a late submission in line with University policy. Please see further details in the Postgraduate Study Guide on late submission of assessed work.

Occasionally, a module leader may change an assignment deadline (almost always to a later date). You will be notified of this in advance by e-mail by either the module leader or the relevant programme secretary. For all assignment deadlines, you should receive your marks and feedback within 20 working days. There may be certain exceptions to this turnaround time, but you will be notified of this at the time the deadline is set.

Please note that module leaders are reviewing the module teaching and assessment methods for Semester 2 modules, in light of the Covid-19 restrictions. Final information will be confirmed during the autumn term for Semester 2 modules.
