Igniting Connections
Welcome to Newcastle University London

Newcastle University has a proud tradition of academic excellence, spanning more than 180 years. Our presence in London brings our Russell Group education to a major world city for business, finance and commerce.

A world-class reputation
Newcastle University is a world-class research and teaching university, ranked in the top 150 of the world's best universities and in the top 10 in Europe for teaching excellence. We are proud to have been awarded Gold status by the UK government in the Teaching Excellence Framework in recognition of our provision of consistently outstanding teaching, learning and graduate outcomes for students. We’re also in the top 20 most-targeted universities by The Times Top 100 Graduate Employers, meaning studying with us is a sound financial investment.

An industry-immersive education
Through our location in the heart of the City of London, we have established partnerships with a range of national and international businesses, start-ups and enterprises headquartered in the capital. This enables us to offer a truly industry-immersive education (see page 13), providing students the opportunity to gain the theoretical and practical skills to realise their potential. Combine this with an award-winning careers service and you have everything you need to succeed.

Quality assurance
All degrees offered in London meet the same rigorous quality standards as our campus in Newcastle, meaning you graduate with a Newcastle University degree regardless of which location you decide to study at. It’s also reassuring to know that our business degrees have been designed by Newcastle University Business School which holds triple accreditation, placing it in the top 1% of Business schools worldwide, so you can be confident in your choice to study with us.

* Ranked joint 141st in the world in the QS World University Ranking 2019

About Us

Why choose Newcastle University London

At our London hub, you’ll be inspired to succeed. With an industry-immersive approach to teaching and learning, we’re focussed on providing students with the practical skills needed to become global business leaders of the future. Our degrees include opportunities for work experience, internship and placements with national and international brands based in the capital. Combine this with a programme of masterclass events, practical projects and regular guest lectures and you have everything you need to take your career to the next level.

World-class reputation
Bringing the best of Newcastle University to the capital. We’re part of the Russell Group of research-intensive universities and have a global reputation for excellence (Top 150 in the QS World University Rankings for 2019).

Teaching excellence
We’re proud of our TEF gold award in the Teaching Excellence Framework 2017, demonstrating consistently outstanding teaching, learning and student outcomes.

International outlook
Our international outlook, combined with our global reputation for academic excellence, mean we’re a first-choice destination for students from around the world.

Industry focussed
Begin your career connected. From day one, you’ll learn from academics with industry experience to develop the skills sought after by top global companies. More on page 12.

Real business projects
Nothing makes a CV shine like real industry experience. That’s why our students undertake business projects in real-life environments, gaining a valuable insight into the world of work.

Work experience opportunities
All of our students are able to apply for work placements. It’s a great opportunity to gain first-hand business experience, hone your skills, and make career-boosting connections.

High-profile public events
We host regular public lectures with leaders of industry, always inspiring, always free to attend.

Our London location
We’re located next to the Square Mile, where three quarters of US Fortune 500 companies have offices. Meanwhile, Shoreditch – one of London’s most distinctive and culturally creative areas – is only a few minutes away. More on page 8.

Friendly community in a big city
We bring the warm, friendly and supportive community of Newcastle University to the capital. We believe in a personal education, with an intimate, supportive learning environment and dedicated support staff. More on page 10.

Masterclass series
Top business leaders give weekly masterclass speaker sessions. Use the sessions as an opportunity to find out the secrets of their success.

Lifelong graduate connections
Attend regular networking events and connect with Newcastle University graduates around the world. Our Graduate Connections database enables you to get in touch with alumni from across the globe who can provide advice and guidance when it comes to taking the next step in your career.

Student satisfaction
We’re a friendly, inclusive and collaborative place to study, with 91% of students satisfied with their overall experience here (International Student Barometer, Autumn 2016).
Britain’s business and industry hub
London is home to 70 FTSE 100-listed companies and some of the world’s biggest Fortune 500 companies – which makes it the perfect location for business students. We’re located on the edge of London’s Square Mile, home to thousands of national and international businesses.

The green capital
London is one of the greenest capitals in the world with more than 3,000 parks and open spaces. If you’ve got a free afternoon and the sun’s shining, pack a picnic and check out the panoramic views from Primrose Hill, or relax with a trendy crowd on London Fields or Victoria Park.

Art and culture
Explore world-famous museums and galleries for free! Must-sees include Tate Modern, the British Museum, the National Portrait Gallery and the Science Museum. Stand face-to-face with a T-Rex at the Natural History Museum, see the best new contemporary art at the Saatchi Gallery, or head to the British Library to view the Magna Carta.

Theatre and music
Experience authentic Shakespearean plays at the Globe Theatre, or take in the big name shows in the West End. Be part of the Proms at Albert Hall, support up-and-coming acts in local bars, listen to jazz at Ronnie Scott’s, or dance at 1,000ft at the Shard’s silent disco. There’s truly something for everyone!

Free London fun
One of the best things about studying in London is just how much fun you can have on a small budget. There are numerous free galleries and museums, alongside a number of festivals which are either free, or heavily discounted for students. Whatever you do, don’t forget to set a calendar update for the Notting Hill Carnival, the Totally Thames Festival, and of course, Chinese New Year – London’s Chinatown holds the biggest celebrations outside of Asia!

Shopping
In London there are shopping options to suit every taste and budget, from chic boutiques to brilliant bargains and everything in-between. Oxford Street and the Westfield Shopping Centres are great for high street buys, while exclusive stores like Harrods, Liberty, Selfridges and Harvey Nichols are all right on the doorstep. For vintage finds head to Brick Lane and Camden Market. If that’s not enough, the famous Bicester Village designer outlet is an hour by train from Paddington station.

Food and drink
Love eating out? You’ll love London. From quirky pop-ups and street food to Michelin star restaurants, the cuisine is as diverse as the people who call London home. You can eat your way around the globe; bagels on Brick Lane for breakfast, world-class dim sum in Chinatown for lunch, Brazilian BBQ for dinner and Sri Lankan street snacks for supper. The list is never ending and with student discounts available at many restaurants there’s no excuse not to indulge.

Transport hub
Newcastle University London has excellent transport links nearby and its central location provides the perfect opportunity to explore London, the UK and beyond. We are just a five-minute walk from Liverpool Street Station in Zone 1, a transport interchange servicing the underground, national rail and local bus services across the city.

At the weekend it’s also easy to explore other parts of the UK, with Oxford, Cambridge and the seaside towns of the south coast like Brighton just an hour away by train. If you fancy going further afield, the East Coast mainline train service from King’s Cross makes the towns of York, Newcastle and Edinburgh easily accessible with their fast and frequent service. You can also visit other European cities including Paris, Brussels and Lille from the Eurostar terminal at St Pancras International. As you would expect from a global city like London, major international airports like Heathrow and Gatwick are also within easy reach.

Local London

When you’re located in the coolest part of town, it’s impossible not to have fun.
We’re right between the Square Mile, the City’s main business district and Shoreditch, a buzzing area alive with fashionable shops and creative people.

Neighbourhood eats
Food Village on Shoreditch High Street offers everything from burritos to steak sandwiches, while Spitalfields, Petticoat and Brick Lane markets all sell a range of international cuisines.

Accessible art
The outstanding Whitechapel Gallery and interactive Red Gallery are right on the doorstep, but here art isn’t just confined to buildings.
Take a stroll from Brick Lane to Shoreditch on the trail of Instagram worthy graffiti art and you might even spot a famous Banksy!

Music and nightlife
Close to campus, the Magic Roundabout is one of London’s most unique live music venues.
Big name acts like Florence and the Machine are hosted at the Macbeth, while The Old Blue Last plays upcoming music acts.

Retail therapy
Shoreditch is great for vintage finds and independent stores. Local BOXPARK and Redchurch Street are packed with boutiques and Columbia Road transforms into an oasis of foliage and flowers every Sunday.

An iconic skyline
The square mile is packed with inspirational modern buildings. Spot the ‘Cheese Grater’ which sits right alongside Lord Norman Foster’s famous ‘Gherkin’. For a glimpse into the city’s rich history, the Tower of London and St Paul’s Cathedral are just a 20-minute walk away.

Sport
There are a number of gyms in the area and if you love football, you’ll love the Shoreditch Lucozade Powerleague. The 13 outdoor pitches are located opposite Shoreditch High street station.

Our London Hub

A warm welcome meets great facilities

The Newcastle University London hub is a sleek, purpose-built building on Middlesex Street, minutes from Liverpool Street Station.

First-rate facilities

You’ll work towards your degree in a modern, high-quality learning environment. It’s a great space, designed to help you focus on achieving your full potential. We’re well equipped with study pods for quiet learning, multi-purpose lecture theatres and seminar rooms complete with interactive whiteboards. These flexible spaces support lectures, practical sessions, seminars and tutorials. You’ll also benefit from high-quality IT and e-learning resources, as well as Bloomberg terminals to give you hands on practical experience of financial trading.

When it’s time for a break, relax in the social spaces and breakout areas. If you’re feeling hungry, our café serves a range of snacks and drinks. There are also plenty of student hangouts close by including cafés, restaurants and bars.

The Learning Resource Centre

Our well-equipped Learning Resource Centre is the place to go for learning materials. You’ll also have access to Newcastle University’s wealth of online learning resources, including over six million ebooks and electronic journals. Best of all, our experienced and friendly team are on hand to help you make the most of the resources available.

Master’s suite for postgraduate students

The master’s suite is a dedicated area for postgraduate students to complete assignments and unwind in between lectures. It’s a pleasant, quiet, independent study space, with IT facilities.

Modern IT facilities and e-resources

You’ll have access to on-campus IT facilities and can take advantage of the free wireless internet available. Additional study resources include a virtual learning environment, which provides access to reading lists, programme handouts, online assessment and discussions. We also provide a supportive online learning system if English isn’t your first language.

Gym facilities

Look after your body as well as your mind by joining the private provider gym next door, or the University of London Student Central gym and pool just a few tube stops away. Students enjoy discounted membership at both venues enabling you to make the most of facilities including a cardio theatre, free weights, spin studio and personal trainers.

Extra resources right on your doorstep

Living in London gives you convenient access to a wealth of library, sporting and social facilities. For example:

- Local libraries include the Bishopsgate Institute, The Barbican Library and The British Library
- Olympic Park – home of the 2012 Olympic Games – is just three tube stops away
- Hundreds of cafés, bars, restaurants and pubs in nearby Spitalfields Market, Petticoat Lane and Brick Lane
- Worship spaces for all faiths – the Student Service team will be happy to provide you with more information

Good to know

London students have access to Newcastle University’s online ebooks and ejournals, of which there are over six million.

Skilled, approachable staff are on hand to assist students, offering individual training on the resources to help you make the most of your time here in London.

Margaret Booker
Learning Resource Manager
At Newcastle University London, we’re here to support you in becoming a global business leader of the future. This starts with strong academic foundations, and builds through regular exposure to the real business world. Taking advantage of our location on the edge of London’s financial district, we work hand-in-hand with industry to help you develop an enviable skill-set, and the knowledge base top employers demand.

Why is an industry-immersive education so important?
Top global employers demand more than a theoretical knowledge of business. So to compete in a challenging graduate employment market, you’ll need to stand out. We bring together academic theory with opportunities to build practical business skills.

This combined approach to teaching and learning enables you to:
• Build your professional network
• Gain real life business experience
• Benefit from the personal advice of business leaders who have reached the top of their respective professions
• Put classroom theory into practice

What does industry-immersive mean?
We provide a range of opportunities to engage directly with industry as part of your study experience. Including:
• real-life business projects
• attending professional masterclasses and public debates
• networking with alumni based in the capital
• undertaking a work placement with a leading organisation

A sample of our industry partners:

As a result of the networking opportunities provided by Newcastle University London, Ania, an MSc International Business Management student, secured a job offer before graduating. She says:

It’s really great that Newcastle University London enables us to showcase our strengths in front of the right people, and find a way into the hidden job market. One networking opportunity brought the unexpected prospect of working at Capita Learning Services. It’s a great experience and the project management role really adds to my overall learning experience.

As a company with a global focus, we are proud to support students studying for an international degree. We hope to be able to offer practical insights and experience through helping with teaching, assignments and work experience.

Your Career

Careers Service
Newcastle University's Careers Service is multi-award winning. The team offer advice and support for students seeking a graduate career, starting a business or embarking on further study. Dedicated staff will help you plan your career, market your skills, build contacts and find jobs. You can also attend the 'Gain a Global Advantage' day, an afternoon of inspiring talks, interactive workshops and networking opportunities with prestigious employers – all with an international focus.

Masterclasses
Top business executives give free masterclass talks to our students. Previous speakers have included the Head of Luxury and Fashion at the London Evening Standard, the former CEO of Granada Group, the director of Daytime and Lifestyle at ITV Content, the former Procter & Gamble global senior executive, and the co-founder of Leaderscape. Use the sessions as an opportunity to find out the secrets of their success!

Entrepreneur support
If you have a business idea, we have a programme in place to support you on your entrepreneurship journey. Many Newcastle University students and graduates turn their business ideas into reality, including gin brand NOVELTEA, which recently launched in Fenwick department store and is now expanding trading to take their product to the global market.

Work placements and internships
Supplement your studies and gain invaluable real-world experience by taking part in a placement as part of your degree. We offer everything from one year placements for our undergraduate students, to shorter placements for our postgraduate and foundation students. Options can include a three-month business sponsored internship to an exciting range of shorter CV-enhancing placements. Our dedicated Industrial Engagement Officer can support you in finding a placement and we’ve secured a number of internships exclusively for Newcastle University London students.

Business-focused degrees
A number of business leaders sit on our Advisory Board to make sure our strategic direction – and the courses we offer – are perfectly aligned with the needs and ambitions of the global business community. Companies represented include: RWE Supply & Trading, Avalon, Irwin Mitchell LLP, Capita Civil Service Learning, Barlow Wells, AES International and Newton Euro.

Public debate series
Regular public debates help you stay well-informed. They’re free to attend, and previous events have focussed on the EU referendum, and corruption in sports.

Industry guest lectures
Lectures and seminars include presentations from leading industry figures.

Practical projects
Throughout your studies, you’ll enjoy many opportunities to develop and improve your management, strategic and decision-making skills. Activities include:

Group projects - A great way to showcase skills, such as time management, team working, budgeting, presentation and leadership skills, as you put theory to work in a small team. Past student projects have included a live product development and sales challenge at Spitalfields market and real business simulations.

Individual assignments - A chance to let your personal abilities really shine, working on practical projects. Previous students have, for example, written case studies on organisations such as Marco Pierre White and Zaha Hadid Architects.

Alumni events
Many Newcastle University graduates occupy senior roles across London. We hold regular networking events and welcome successful professionals to meet our current students. Connecting with alumni is a great way to potentially further your career.

Find out more about careers support at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london/careers

Good to know
You’ll be invited to attend free masterclasses to gain an insight into different industries.

The Spitalfields Market challenge was a good opportunity for us to put our theoretical knowledge into practice and demonstrate our ability to work as a team. On top of that it was a lot of fun!

Galske
MSc International Business Management student
We offer a full suite of support services to help you take control of your education and make the most of your university experience.

Student Support Team
Throughout the year, our friendly Student Support Services team is on-hand to provide help and advice on all aspects of student life. This includes academic support, student welfare, accommodation and finance, as well as visa and immigration advice for international students.

The Welcome Desk is open throughout the day Monday-Friday. We also offer a 24-hour phone number that students can call in the event of an emergency.

Academic support
Every new student is assigned a personal tutor – a member of the academic team you can talk to about how your studies are progressing. Turn to them for practical advice and guidance on issues such as preparing for exams, skills development and career direction. If you’re feeling stressed or worried they can help you balance your study and personal life too, working in partnership with our student support and welfare teams.

Student welfare
If you’d prefer to talk in complete confidence, you can also book an appointment with our welfare adviser to discuss any concerns or issues.

Space to reflect and worship
London is a modern cosmopolitan city with a diverse population of all faiths, served by a comprehensive range of places of worship.

Support for international students
We provide a range of services especially for international students to ensure you feel supported as soon as you join us.

Meeting us
Our recruitment staff regularly travel the world to meet new students and answer your questions about studying here. We also work with education agents and partners who can support you through the application process. Check our latest travel schedule at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london/events/meet-us

Immigration and visa support
Students from outside the UK or EU will normally have to apply for a study visa under the Tier 4 points-based immigration system. To find out whether you need a visa, visit: www.gov.uk/check-uk-visa for the latest information. We also have a dedicated Visa Team which provides advice and guidance on securing a visa before you arrive and support for immigration issues while you’re here: www.ncl.ac.uk/london/international/visa

International welcome
Our international welcome helps you make friends, meet staff and settle in to the university and city. We also provide an airport pick up service and assistance with essential tasks such as opening a bank account and registering with a doctor. Find out more on page 19.

English language support
If you are not a native English speaker, we’ll ask you to take a short English Language Assessment (UELA) when you arrive. This is a way for us to identify any additional language support you might need. Our in-sessional language modules are all free and include academic reading, writing, listening and speaking to help you develop your academic skills. There are also opportunities for one-to-one tutorials.

If you don’t meet our English language requirements for direct entry just yet, check out the range of international pathway and English foundation courses available in London via our education partner – INTO on page 39.
Social Life

Your experience goes beyond the classroom

As well as gaining a first-class education, you’ll meet great people and make amazing memories.

Your personalised London guide
Before you join us, you’ll receive a Newcastle University London Students’ Union (NUSU) ‘Connections Survey’. This is an opportunity to tell us a little more about yourself and your interests, and we’ll recommend activities to help you make the most of your free time in London. The survey also matches you with other students with similar interests. It’s a great way to make new friends before term even starts, so when you arrive and meet face-to-face, you’ll feel more at home from day one.

Freshers’ induction week
Your first term starts with a social programme called ‘Freshers’ week’ – there are no lectures, just lots of fun events to help you connect with other students. These activities typically include:
• Boat trip on the River Thames
• Food, pizza, and cake receptions
• ‘Meet and greet’ with academics
• The Freshers’ Fair – see what you can get involved in whilst you’re studying
• Tours and local area activities to help you make the most of our fantastic location
• Evening socials in local restaurants, bars and clubs
• Activities specifically for international students to help you settle into life in a new country and city.

Newcastle University London Students’ Union
Newcastle University London Students’ Union is here to help you connect with fellow students outside the classroom. Make the most of your student experience, keep up your old hobbies and interests and explore new ones. Whether you are into squash or sumo, cricket or curling, the Union is your link to a wide range of activities in one of the world’s most exciting cities.

Socials throughout the year
We also run social events throughout the year to help you make the most of the local area. Join in with events including:
• Trips to London landmarks such as Hampton Court Palace
• Fun group activities, like ice skating and table tennis tournaments
• International food events from curry nights to Chinese banquets
• Sports nights – we screen all the major national sporting events including football, tennis, rugby and cricket
• Annual summer ball

Clubs and societies
There are a range of clubs and societies here at Newcastle University London. The Entrepreneur Society is one of the biggest and most active, working with organisations such as Reload Greece that support students to develop their business idea and gain potential funding. If your passion isn’t represented by the clubs already set-up, why not become a pioneer and start your own society? It’s a great way to make friends and enhance your CV.

University of London Students Central
You’ll have the opportunity to become a member of Student Central. This is a Students’ Union for students across the 27 institutions that make up the University of London. Membership gives you access to a range of societies, sports and events, and allows you to connect with the wider London student population. For more information, visit www.studentcentral.london

Charity and volunteering
Helping worthy causes is a great way to make friends, connect with the wider community and boost your CV. The Students’ Union will help you find volunteering opportunities such as student mentoring, or fundraising for charities like Providence Row, an innovative local charity that works to prevent and reduce homelessness, here in the East End of London.

Adventures on your doorstep
Although our academic community is friendly and welcoming, you’ll want to make the most of our local area too. Multicultural Whitechapel is home to markets, galleries and contemporary exhibitions. While Spitalfields Market and the fiery flavours and buzzing bars of Brick Lane are just around the corner. Wherever you go, you’ll stumble across up-and-coming fashion boutiques, independent art galleries and mouthwatering food markets – every study break is a mini-adventure.

Sport and fitness
If you enjoy sport, or would like to get more active, you’ll love living in London. From waterpolo, football, rugby, baseball and dodgeball, you can access some of the greatest sports clubs in the country. London was host to the 2012 Olympic Games, and the Queen Elizabeth Olympic park is just three tube stops from campus! Follow in the footsteps of Olympians at facilities including the Copper Box (host to handball, modern pentathlon, fencing and goalball in the Games), Lee Valley Hockey and Tennis Centre, Lee Valley VeloPark and the London Aquatics Centre. If you fancy something sporty right on our doorstep, join the football club and play on the 5-a-side pitches in Shoreditch. Closer still there’s a private provider gym right next door, plus table tennis tables for a fun break between seminars and lectures.
Choose from a variety of options, including residences within easy reach of the university, carefully selected homestay accommodation or privately let accommodation.

Scape East – Mile End
Less than two miles from university
£10,325–£18,620*

This premium self-catering student residence is in the heart of the East End. Live alongside international and UK students in a sleek, self-contained studio of your own. These smart flatlets are carefully designed with space-saving storage, large windows to let in natural light, a luxurious en suite bathroom with an oversized power shower, plus your own integrated kitchen. Communal areas and organised activities make it easy to make friends, while individual bedrooms guarantee privacy when studying.

The Craft Building
Less than one mile from university
£8,225–£14,210*

This newly refurbished building is two-minutes’ walk from Brick Lane and very close to Spitalfields Market – it’s our top choice if you want quirky shopping, great eats and endless entertainment right on your doorstep. Transport-wise, Aldgate East and Whitechapel underground stations are just minutes away. Rooms are of a high standard and offer the choice of either premium en suite or classic en suite, arranged in friendly clusters of eight, with generous and well-equipped shared kitchens.

Chapter Spitalfields
Less than five minutes from university
For prices, visit: www.ncl.ac.uk/london/student-life/accommodation

Enjoy premium student living with excellent amenities, enviable views of the iconic London skyline and all just a few steps from campus. Chapter is only moments from the famous Gherkin in the City’s business district and a three-minute walk from Liverpool Street, Aldgate and Aldgate East Underground stations.

Student.com
We also offer a wide range of student accommodation through our partners at student.com, with a variety of different locations and prices starting from £99 per week.

Homestay
An environment more like the family home, options range from hal-board (breakfast and evening meal) to self-catering, with locations throughout London. Students live with their host, sharing mealtimes and all the other normal amenities, like bathrooms and laundry facilities.

Private student accommodation
If you’re on a budget, a student house-share can be a great option. These carefully selected homes-from-home are shared with other students from Newcastle University London. You’ll have your own private bedroom, but will share communal spaces like the kitchen, bathroom and lounge.

For further information and the most up to date prices, visit www.ncl.ac.uk/london/student-life/accommodation or contact newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk

Accommodation
A place to call home

Whether you’re leaving home for the first time or you’re a postgraduate student looking for somewhere quieter, we offer a range of safe, high-quality accommodation to suit every lifestyle.
The quality of our degrees and links with global organisations headquartered in London make a degree from Newcastle University London a sound investment. To help finance your studies, we offer a range of scholarships and some students can also apply for government loans.

Home and EU students

Tuition Fees

Undergraduate 2019–20: £9,250

* The maximum fee that we are permitted to charge for UK/EU students is set by the UK government. EU students studying at Newcastle will pay UK (home) tuition fees. As a general principle, you should expect the tuition fee to increase in each subsequent academic year of your course, subject to inflation and government regulations on fee increases.

Postgraduate 2019–20:
MSc Banking and Finance, MSc International Business Management and MSc International Marketing £10,410
PhD's £5,010

Placement year fees
Undergraduate students who take a work placement year receive a significant reduction in the tuition fees for that year.

Student loans
Eligible UK/EU undergraduate students are entitled to a loan to cover the full cost of tuition fees while at university. You don’t have to pay any tuition fees upfront if you take out a tuition fee loan. You only start repaying your loan once you have graduated and earn more than £25,000 a year. Living cost loans are also available for UK students.

UK/EU postgraduate students: The Student Loans Company administers loan schemes in all subject disciplines up to the value of £10,609 (based on 2018–19 rates) for eligible taught and research Master’s courses (e.g. MA, MSc, MBA) and up to £25,000 (based on 2018–19 rates) for students studying eligible doctoral degrees (e.g. PhD’s, EdD’s). You only start repaying your loan once you have graduated.

You may be eligible for a tuition fee loan from your home country. The UK Council for International Student Affairs website is a useful resource: www.ukcisa.org.uk

Scholarships
We invest in financial assistance for eligible students who choose to study with us. Our generous range of scholarships will support you during your studies. Scholarships can be in addition to government support and usually do not have to be paid back. To find out more about our scholarships and your eligibility, visit www.ncl.ac.uk/london/finance/scholarshipsbursaries

Access support for undergraduate home students

We know that some students face extra challenges when applying to university. If you have the talent and ambition for university study, regardless of your background, financial or personal circumstances we welcome your application*. We offer a variety of programmes to help support you in your decisions.

Realising opportunities
Newcastle University leads this award-winning scheme which aims to encourage talented students from across the UK to apply to university. Find out more at: www.realisingopportunities.ac.uk

PARTNERS Programme

Receive a lower offer
If you’re less likely to go to university because of your family background, low income, or school opportunities, our nationally recognised PARTNERS programme can help. It is a supported entry route to help talented applicants overcome barriers to applying here. So far, we’ve supported over 4,500 students to study at Newcastle University.

A PARTNERS offer will be lower than the standard offer from us, usually by up to two grades and will include successful completion of a summer school. This takes place in the July of year 13/second year of college. You’ll attend introductory sessions in the subject area of the course you have applied to and sessions to help develop key transitional skills necessary for success at University.

You’ll also get help with applying for and understanding student finance, the chance to meet other students on the scheme and to learn more about Newcastle University and student life. It’s a great way to help you in deciding if university is the right choice for you.

Find out more and if you’re eligible to apply at: www.ncl.ac.uk/schools/partners

Students will study a variety of public, private and not-for-profit organisations, and can go into a wide variety of careers including marketing and communications, business development and management.

Dr Yousra Asaad
Lecturer in International Marketing and Management

Our extensive work with schools and colleges in and around London and the South East aims to provide students with high-quality information, advice and events so that they can begin to make informed decisions about studying at university. Here at Newcastle University London, we’re committed to raising aspirations and widening participation.

Collaborating with teachers, students and graduates we continue to develop a range of informative and interactive workshops which can be delivered directly in Schools, or here in London. These workshops aim to increase awareness of higher education, give students vital skills and knowledge about their university options and raise aspirations. Alongside supporting students, we also aim to continue to build relationships and provide reliable information for teaching staff.

Workshop activities

Our subject-specific workshops reflect the dynamic, industry-immersive degrees we offer here in London and are aimed at students considering studying a business related degree at university. Example activities include everything from interactive presentations about how we support entrepreneurial students, to fun and interactive workshops which get students thinking about what it means to set up a business. We also offer sessions on working across cultures, an introduction to the world of finance and accounting and marketing masterclasses. Our workshops are constantly being updated and we’re happy to work with you in identifying and delivering bespoke sessions for your organisation.

We’re also able to offer sessions on a range of subjects including the application process, finance and university life.

These activities are usually run by our own students and graduates who are able to offer a fresh, realistic and unique insight into university life and the degrees we offer. To speak to us about any of these activities, get in touch at: outreachlondon@ncl.ac.uk or via www.ncl.ac.uk/london
Our postgraduate students have a range of backgrounds and interests, but are united in their ambition to work in the world of international business.

Our research-informed teaching exposes you to the latest ideas and thinking within your chosen subject, enabling you to hit the ground running when it comes to taking the next step in your career.

At our London hub you’ll benefit from smaller than average class sizes, so you’ll learn in a supportive and friendly atmosphere with dedicated support. Our industry links with national and international companies headquartered in London provide access to the wider business community so that you can build contacts as you study.

Good to know
Newcastle University is in the UK top 20 for research power.
Newcastle University – REF 2014.

Dr Natalia Yakovleva
Senior Lecturer in International Business Strategy

Natalia is helping to reform the way certain industries are understood, in both academic literature and the business world, particularly in the context of responsible business practices. She is undertaking a project called Global and Urban Metabolism of Potassium to feed the City as a co-investigator with the School of Civil Engineering and Geosciences at Newcastle University.

Dr Rama Kanungo
Lecturer in Accounting and Finance

Rama’s teaching approach reflects the real life world of work, with practical assignments including business simulations where students compete with those at the Newcastle campus. His research interests are in a range of areas, from mergers and acquisitions to financial theory and management to risk and portfolio analysis.

Dr Elina Meliou
Lecturer in Organisational Behaviour and HRM

Elina has received the prestigious British Academy Small Grant Award to examine the ways in which women have developed entrepreneurial careers during the recent economic decline. Corporate business is traditionally thought of as male-dominated, but her study will challenge previous research findings. She has also led initiatives to enhance the student experience, including a funded project to enhance students’ understanding of equality and diversity.

For an up to date list of our academic staff and their research interests, please visit the website at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london

I think the experience of spending the summer as a research assistant for Dr Yakovleva has several benefits to my PhD studies. I was able to share knowledge, discuss research ideas and improve my academic skills.

International Pathways

Academic English

This programme focuses on academic English and the study skills you need to succeed on your pre-university academic programme or university degree.

About the programme

This intensive English programme will develop your English language and academic study skills, as well as enhance your research and academic presentation abilities. The programme is delivered via a blend of face-to-face classes, where you will be among a supportive learning community, and online learning.

With multiple start dates and different durations of study, the course has the flexibility to cater for students with differing language abilities.

Pre-sessional English

A short and intensive preparation in academic English for academically qualified international students who are due to start an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at Newcastle University London in September 2019.

About the programme

On this programme you will learn with students studying the same, or similar subjects at university with a focus on content-specific vocabulary, grammar, style and structure. You will attend lectures from specialists on topics relevant to your future studies, and practise speaking English on topics related to your degree programme. This will enable you to adapt to living and studying in the UK prior to beginning your degree studies.

For Pre-sessional prices visit: www.ncl.ac.uk/london

Newcastle University London English Language Policy

In line with UK government (the Home Office) regulations, all students seeking admission to Newcastle University London must be competent in English Language. For qualifications at NQF level 6 (degree level) or above this must be at a minimum of B2 on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) in each of the four components of language learning (reading, writing, speaking and listening). IELTS 5.5 is deemed to demonstrate B2 level competence.

Under no circumstances will a student with an overall level of English Language below IELTS 5.5, or with a reading, writing, speaking or listening score below IELTS 5.5, be given admission to a full degree programme at Newcastle University London.
