Last updated: 21 May 2018

Please read this privacy policy carefully to understand our practices about how we collect, use and share your personal information.

About our privacy policy

This privacy policy describes how we manage the personal information that is collected when you subscribe to our Future Mobility (FM) mailing list.

Information we collect

We collect information from you in one way only; directly from your input into a MailChimp form.

We collect, as mandatory fields, your email address, first name, last name, and a broad definition of the roles you perform related to transport, policy or commerce.

We collect, as optional fields, your postal address and organisation.

We also collect your preference for HTML or plain text emails.

How we use your information

We, Newcastle University, will not and do not share this data with any 3rd parties.

We only use the data to compile a mailing list. This mailing list will receive about four newsletter notifications a year, and up to 8 short email announcements. These will be about the research activities of the FM group and associated news topics. We shall also sometimes send notice of job roles, and events, that we deem newsworthy to those people with roles that we feel are appropriate.

We estimate you will not receive more than 12 emails in a typical year.

The newsletters will be sent as download links, not as attachments.

Access to, accuracy and deletion of your information

You may check, update, and add to your profile at any time at the MailChimp service, using the links at the bottom of our emails.

You may unsubscribe and resubscribe at any time using the same links. We keep a record of your data so that we know if you have ever been a subscriber, and so that duplicate records of your profile are avoided. If you want to be completely deleted please make a request to the contact below and we shall follow it as a matter of best endeavour.

Cross-border transfer of your information

MailChimp servers and offices are located in the United States, so your information may be transferred to, stored, or processed in the United States.

Changes to our privacy policy

We may change this privacy policy from time to time. Any changes will be posted on this page with an updated revision date.
