

Conference Presentations

Taylor, K. and Haines, E. (2008) Exploring experiences of potential egg sharers in the UK. A qualitative interview study, Organising bioethics: challenges for Western, Central and Eastern Europe, International Conference of the European Association of Centres of Medical Ethics, Prague, Czech Republic, 25-27 September.

Haines, E. (2009) Empirical investigations into socio-ethical aspects of acquiring eggs and embryos for human embryonic stem cell research: insights from the U.K. World Stem Cell Summit, Baltimore, USA, 21-23 September.

Haines, E. and Taylor K. (2011) Investigating women's experiences of an IVF egg sharing scheme for SCNT research, presentation to the PEALS Annual Symposium, The uses of human reproductive tissue in research and treatment: principles and practice, Newcastle upon Tyne, UK, 22-23 February.

Erica Haines and Ken Taylor (2011), Investigating women's experiences of an IVF egg sharing scheme for SCNT research: the relevance of an ownership discourse? Exploring the ELSI Universe, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, USA, 12-14 April, 2011.

Erica Haines, Ken Taylor and Ilke Turkmendag (2011), Women's views and experiences of an 'egg sharing for research' scheme: does local practice have global implications?, European Association of Centres of Medical Ethics 25th Annual Conference, 'Bioethics from a cross-cultural perspective', Istanbul, 15-17 September.

Conference Posters

Erica Haines and Ken Taylor (2009) Ethical aspects of acquiring eggs and embryos for human embryonic stem cell research: implications for scientists from empirical studies of providers' views, International Society for Stem Cell Research 7th Annual Conference, Barcelona July 8-11.

Taylor, K. and Haines, E. (2010) Socio-ethical considerations in the recruitment of volunteers when acquiring eggs for stem cell research, European Society of Human Reproduction and Embryology 26th Annual Meeting, Rome June 27-30.

Erica Haines and Ken Taylor (2011) An investigation of patients' views and experiences of an IVF 'egg sharing' scheme for somatic cell nuclear transfer research, European Society of Human Reproduction and Embryology Annual Meeting, Stockholm, July 4-6.

Erica Haines and Ken Taylor (2011) An investigation of patients' views and experiences of an IVF 'egg sharing' scheme for somatic cell nuclear transfer research, Stem Cells Europe Annual Meeting, Edinburgh, July 20-21.

Workshop, Seminar and Other presentations

Porz, R. (2008) Some 'male' perspectives on IVF; stem cell research and the donation of surplus embryos": 'Bridging the gap between empirical and normative methodologies in ELSA research?' Workshop at the Centre for Theory of Science, University of Bergen, Norway, 29 May.

Porz, R. (2008) Introducing a new qualitative interview study on the experience of undergoing an egg sharing scheme in Newcastle, Invited presentation at the Centre for Theory of Science, University of Bergen, Bergen, Norway, 30 May.

Erica Haines (2010) Investigating women's experiences of an IVF egg sharing scheme for SCNT research, PARTS Workshop, University of Sydney, 23 March.

Erica Haines (2010) Nuffield Council on Bioethics Working Party on 'Human bodies in medicine and research', Opinion Forum on considerations of 'public' and 'private' donation, 2 November.

Erica Haines (2011) An investigation of women's experiences of an IVF egg sharing scheme for somatic cell nuclear transfer research, Social Anthropology & Archaeology Seminar Programme, Otago University, 18 March.

Erica Haines (2011) Socio-ethical aspects of the IVF-stem cell interface: the case of 'egg sharing' for somatic cell nuclear transfer research, Innogen, University of Edinburgh, 11 April.

Erica Haines (2011) Pathways towards a sustainable ethics of human stem cell research, ISSCR Public Policy Committee workshop, The Brocher Foundation Hermance, Switzerland, 1-2 December.