VV14 Archaeology and Ancient History

VV41 History and Archaeology

Very few students arrive here with any prior experience of Archaeology. Everyone is starting from the same point, so please don't feel you will be at a loss! Yet it makes sense to make a start on some introductory reading over the summer, and we recommend the following two books:

1. KEVIN GREENE AND TOM MOORE (2010) ARCHAEOLOGY AN INTRODUCTION. ROUTLEDGE.

Written by two former members of staff at Newcastle, this is the very best introductory text to the subject. You will use this book a good deal at Stage 1, and later too.

There is an online companion website at:

2. COLIN RENFREW AND PAUL BAHN (2016) ARCHAEOLOGY: THEORIES, METHODS AND PRACTICE. THAMES AND HUDSON.

An excellent, wide-ranging introduction – you will use this throughout your course.
