Overview of the Application numbers and UCAT thresholds used in recent Admissions Cycles

The UCAT threshold changes each year for A100 and A101 entry routes.

UCAT recalibrates scores each year so your score is not directly comparable with previous years. In the 2015 admission cycle there was a large reduction in national scores which left a large number of candidates falsely believing that they did not have a chance of a successful application to Newcastle.

We cannot predict our UCAT threshold. It depends on the number of applicants, and the average score of applicants. Any national changes in scoring will change our threshold.

In order to widen access and encourage participation in Medicine by students from all backgrounds, we take account of contextual information and the threshold may vary for applicants who fulfill certain criteria.
