10 Programme Aims

- 1(a) To produce graduates with:
- (i) the knowledge, understanding, key and specific skills and general intellectual development required to make them employable in graduate positions in a wide range of employments or capable of undertaking a taught postgraduate programme;
  - (ii) a knowledge of the main theoretical approaches to linguistic study; of the formal structures of the English language and of the history of the English language;
  - (iii) an ability to formulate and evaluate falsifiable theories of linguistic phenomena
  - (iv) an ability to organise complex data and assess its significance;
  - (v) a familiarity with the varieties of spoken and written English in the UK and worldwide, and with the language of texts from the Anglo Saxon, Medieval and Early Modern periods;
  - (vi) a metalinguistic awareness of their native language;
  - (vii) an awareness of the social and stylistic significance of linguistic variants.
  - (viii) some knowledge of a foreign language.
- (b) To provide a programme:
- (i) in which teaching is informed by research, both relevant research in the discipline and research carried out by members of staff;
  - (ii) which consistently attracts highly qualified applicants;
  - (iii) which fully meets the requirements of the relevant Quality Assurance Agency (QAA) Benchmark statement, and
  - (iv) which fully meets the criteria for the different levels of award (certificate, intermediate or honours level diploma) within the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications.

11 Learning Outcomes

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities, skills and other attributes in the following areas. The programme outcomes have references to the benchmark statements for Linguistics and for English.

Knowledge and Understanding

On completing the programme students should have knowledge and understanding of:

- A1. The nature of human language
- A2. Essential linguistic terminology and methodology
- A3. The structure of English, its history and relation to other languages
- A4. Varieties of English, and the geographical, social and contextual factors which produce them

- A5. Computational models of language
- A6. The acquisition of language
- A7. The intellectual context in which the English language is studied
- A8. Knowledge of another language or languages.

Teaching and Learning Methods

At Stage 1 knowledge and understanding is acquired via lectures and seminars and, for foreign languages, practical classes. At Stages 2 and 3 they are acquired via lectures, seminars and individual or group project work, and through practical classes in a language (if taken). More advanced knowledge and understanding is developed at Stage 3 through an Extended Study (20 credits) or Dissertation (40 credits). Students are encouraged to supplement taught material through independent reading. Guidance on further reading is provided by each module director.

Assessment Strategy

Where there is a single assessment of knowledge and understanding in a module, it will normally be via unseen examination of 3 hours or submitted work of 4000, 5000 or 10,000 words in length. Many modules have multiple 'mixed' assessments, in which case the lengths above are used on a pro rata basis. Foreign language modules also assess knowledge and understanding in part by oral presentations, which are also a feature of some linguistics modules.

Examinations provide students with the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to structure a clear, concise and well reasoned argument, to address linguistic problems and engage in practical analysis in an unseen context. Submitted work enables students to expand on and test these skills; it also enables them to demonstrate their knowledge of the scholarly protocols of the discipline. By the end of their final year all students will have experienced assessment by written examination and submitted work, and will have completed at least one independently researched submission (an Extended Study of 5,000 words or a Dissertation of 10,000 words).

Intellectual Skills

On completing the programme students should be able to:

- B1. collect, analyse and evaluate data;
- B2. analyse and critically evaluate argumentation;
- B3. compare and evaluate differing intellectual frameworks and theories;
- B4. apply a developed appreciation of the role of language in our daily lives and of English as a global language.
- B5. learn foreign languages.

Teaching and Learning Methods

At Stage 1 intellectual skills are acquired via lectures and seminars. Seminars give students the opportunity to discuss ideas and methodologies introduced in lectures. At Stages 2 and 3 intellectual skills are developed via lectures, seminars and project work within taught modules, and advanced research skills and independent thinking are developed at Stage 3 through an Extended Study (20 credits) or Dissertation (40 credits).

Assessment Strategy

Assessment of intellectual skills is via unseen examination of 3 hours or submitted work of 4000, 5000 or 10,000 words in length. Many modules have multiple 'mixed' assessments, in which case the lengths above are used on a pro rata basis. Some modules also assess intellectual skills in part by oral presentations. Examination provide students with the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to structure a clear, concise and well reasoned argument in a limited time period, to address linguistic problems and engage in practical analysis in an unseen context. Submitted work enables students to expand on and test these skills; it also enables them to demonstrate their employment of appropriate research techniques. By the end of their final year all students will have experienced assessment by written examination and submitted work, and will have completed at least one independently researched submission (an Extended Study of 5,000 words or a Dissertation of 10,000 words).

Practical Skills

On completing the programme students should be able to:

- C1. practise critical argumentation in language study;
- C2. gather, analyse and evaluate linguistic data;
- C3. compare different linguistic frameworks and their motivation;
- C4. understand the relation between data and theory in English Language study
- C5. address specific analytical, psychological and cultural issues posed by language and English in particular
- C6. Use a foreign language(s) for communication and/or as linguistic data.

Teaching and Learning Methods

At Stage 1 practical skills are introduced via lectures and seminars. Seminars give students the opportunity to practise problem-solving, with the emphasis on practical skills for linguistic analysis. At Stages 2 and 3 skills are cultivated via lectures and seminars, with the opportunity to attain an advanced standard and increasing independence in the collection, analysis and presentation of data.

Assessment Strategy

Assessment of practical skills is via unseen examination of 3 hours or submitted work of 4000, 5000 or 10,000 words in length. Many modules have multiple 'mixed' assessments, in which case the lengths above are used on a pro rata basis. Some modules also assess intellectual skills in part by oral presentations. Examination provide students with the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to structure a clear, concise and well reasoned argument in a limited time period, to address linguistic problems and engage in practical analysis in an unseen context. Submitted work enables students to expand on and test these skills; it also enables them to demonstrate their employment of appropriate research techniques. Foreign language modules also assess practical skills in part by oral presentations, which are also a feature of some linguistics modules. By the end of their final year all students will have experienced assessment by written examination and submitted work, and will have completed at least one independently researched submission (an Extended Study of 5,000 words or a Dissertation of 10,000 words).

Transferable/Key Skills

On completing the programme students should be able to:

- D1. plan and complete essays and project-work
- D2. write and speak to different audiences
- D3. co-ordinate multiple projects
- D4. use information technology (word processing; the internet)
- D5. gather, evaluate and organise material

- D6. summarise and assimilate information
- D7. communicate and debate effectively
- D8. work to deadlines or within specified time-limits
- D9. work and negotiate with others
- D10. work effectively both in a team and independently
- D11. present information to a group in a structured and coherent way
- D12. analyse complex data effectively and present it concisely

Teaching and Learning Methods

Transferable/Key skills are promoted through seminars and tutorials. At Stage 1 students are given guidance to ensure that they can debate effectively, negotiate with others and present information to a group. Skills D1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 in particular are introduced and practised on SEL1029: Language Across Space, with further practice coming in SEL1012: Language Through Time. These skills are further developed at Stages 2 and 3, with continued emphasis on small group work, and with increased opportunity for guided independent study. Students are also given experience of small groups (tutorials and seminars) of different sizes: from groups of 7 or 8 at Stage 1 to groups of 15 at Stage 2 and 3.

Assessment Strategy

Assessment of key skills is implicit in course work at all levels, with Language Across Space focusing on these already at Stage 1. Presentation skills are formally assessed (by tutor and peers) in those modules which have an oral presentation as part of the summative assessment.

12 Programme Curriculum, Structure and Features

Basic structure of the programme

The programme is studied over three years full-time; it is divided into study units or modules, which have a value of either 10 or 20 credits, or, in the case of the Dissertation only, 40 credits. Each 10 credit module represents 100 hours of student learning, and each 20 credit module, 200 hours.

At each Stage the student is required to take and be assessed in modules to the value of 120 credits. At Stage 1 students are given a thorough grounding in the basic knowledge and skills of the three areas of language and linguistic study: syntax, phonology and socio-/historical linguistics. Stage 1 modules introduce students to the practical skills of linguistic analysis which they will need at Stages 2 and 3. The module Language Across Space introduces students to academic skills: written English, preparing an essay and a presentation. An emphasis is placed at Stage 1 on small group teaching to enable the acquisition of academic, practical and key skills. Stage 1 students must also take a further 40 credits in a foreign language.

At Stage 1 practical skills are introduced via lectures and seminars. Seminars give students the opportunity to practise problem-solving, with the emphasis on practical skills for linguistic analysis. At Stages 2 and 3 skills are cultivated via lectures and seminars, with the opportunity to attain an advanced standard and increasing independence in the collection, analysis and presentation of data.

Key features of the programme (including what makes the programme distinctive)

All undergraduates in the School of English Literature, Language and Linguistics can elect to study abroad for one semester, typically the second semester of year two or the first semester of year three. Currently SELLL has links with institutions in Europe and with universities in North America.

SELLL students can also take advantage of University and Faculty-led programmes (including exchanges with universities in Canada and Australia).

13 Criteria for admission

Entry Requirements for 2013-2014

A Levels

AAB-ABB not including General Studies. We welcome applicants with Advanced Level English Language, English Literature or English Language and Literature qualifications. Applicants with qualifications in Mathematics and the Natural Sciences are also encouraged.

Scottish Qualifications

AAABB-AABBB at Higher Grade. Combinations of Highers and Advanced Highers accepted.

International Baccalaureate

A minimum of 34 points.

Irish Leaving Certificate

A1A1B1B1B at Higher Level.

Access Qualifications

Applicants are considered on an individual basis.

BTEC Level 5 HND

Applicants are considered on an individual basis.

Cambridge Pre-U

D3,D3,M2-D3,M2,M2 in Principal Subjects. We welcome applicants with English Language, English Literature, or English Language and Literature qualifications. Applicants with qualifications in Mathematics and the Natural Sciences are also encouraged.

Partners – A Levels

BBB not including General Studies

English Language Requirements

A minimum score of IELTS 7.0 or equivalent.

14 Support for Student Learning

The Student Services portal provides links to key services and other information and is available at: <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/students/>

Induction

During the first week of the first semester students attend an induction programme. New students will be given a general introduction to University life and the University's principle support services and general information about the School and their programme, as described in the Degree Programme Handbook. New and continuing students will be given detailed programme information and the timetable of lectures/practicals/labs/ tutorials/etc. The International Office offers an additional induction programme for overseas students.

Study skills support

Students will learn a range of Personal Transferable Skills, including Study Skills, as outlined in the Programme Specification. Aspects of the transition to degree-level study are covered both in Induction Week activities and in the modules in Stage 1. Students are explicitly tutored on their approach to both group and individual projects.

Numeracy support is available through Maths Aid and help with academic writing is available from the Writing Centre (further information is available from the Robinson Library).

Academic support

The initial point of contact for a student is with a lecturer or module leader, or their personal tutor (see below) for more generic issues. Thereafter the Degree Programme Director or Head of School may be consulted. Issues relating to the programme may be raised at the Staff-Student Committee, and/or at the Board of Studies.

Pastoral support

All students are assigned a personal tutor whose responsibility is to monitor the academic performance and overall well-being of their tutees. A Senior Tutor oversees all pastoral matters (including Personal Extenuating Circumstances) in the School. In addition the University offers a range of support services, including one-to-one counselling and guidance or group sessions / workshops on a range of topics, such as emotional issues e.g. Stress and anxiety, student finance and budgeting, disability matters etc. There is specialist support available for students with dyslexia and mental health issues. Furthermore, the Union Society operates a Student Advice Centre, which can provide advocacy and support to students on a range of topics including housing, debt, legal issues etc.

Support for students with disabilities

The University's Disability Support Service provides help and advice for disabled students at the University - and those thinking of coming to Newcastle. It provides individuals with: advice about the University's facilities, services and the accessibility of campus; details about the technical support available; guidance in study skills and advice on financial support arrangements; a resources room with equipment and software to assist students in their studies.

Learning resources

The University's main learning resources are provided by the Robinson and Walton Libraries (for books, journals, online resources), and Information Systems and Services, which supports campus-wide computing facilities.

All new students whose first language is not English are required to take an English Language Proficiency Test. This is administered by INTO Newcastle University Centre on behalf of Newcastle University. Where appropriate, in-session language training can be provided. The INTO Newcastle University Centre houses a range of resources which may be particularly appropriate for those interested in an Erasmus exchange.

15 Methods for evaluating and improving the quality and standards of teaching and learning

Module reviews

All modules are subject to review by questionnaires which are considered by the Board of Studies. Changes to, or the introduction of new, modules are considered at the Board of Studies and/or the School Teaching and Learning Committee. In addition to the module evaluation questionnaires, student opinion is sought at the Staff-Student Committee and/or the Board of Studies. New modules and major changes to existing modules are subject to approval by the Faculty Teaching and Learning Committee.

Programme reviews

The Board of Studies conducts an Annual Monitoring and Review of the degree programme and reports to Faculty Teaching and Learning Committee. The FTLC takes an overview of all programmes within the Faculty and reports any Faculty or institutional issues to the University Teaching and Learning Committee.

External Examiner reports

External Examiner reports are considered by the Board of Studies. The Board responds to these reports through Faculty Teaching and Learning Committee. External Examiner reports are shared with institutional student representatives, through the Staff-Student Committee.

Student evaluations

All modules, and the degree programme, are subject to review by student questionnaires. Informal student evaluation is also obtained at the Staff-Student Committee, and the Board of Studies. The National Student Survey is sent out every year to final-year undergraduate students, and consists of a set of questions seeking students' views on the quality of the learning and teaching. The results from student surveys are considered as part of the Annual Monitoring and Review of the programme and any arising actions are captured at programme and School / institutional level and reported to the appropriate body.

Mechanisms for gaining student feedback

Feedback is channelled via the Staff-Student Committee and the Board of Studies. Student opinion is also obtained informally through a School Forum and through focus groups on specific issues.

Faculty and University Review Mechanisms

The programme is subject to the University's Internal Subject Review process. Every five years degree programmes in each subject area are subject to periodic review. This involves both the detailed consideration of a range of documentation, and a review visit by a review team which includes an external subject specialist in addition to University and Faculty representatives. Following the review a report is produced, which forms the basis for a decision by University Teaching and Learning Committee on whether the programmes reviewed should be re-approved for a further five year period.

Accreditation reports

Additional mechanisms

16 Regulation of assessment

Pass mark

The pass mark is 40%

Course requirements

Progression is subject to the University's Undergraduate Progress Regulations and Undergraduate Examination Conventions. In summary, students must pass, or be deemed to have passed, 120 credits at each Stage. Limited compensation up to 40 credits and down to a mark of 35% is possible at each Stage and there are re-assessment opportunities, with certain restrictions.

Weighting of stages

The marks from Stages 2 and 3 will contribute to the final classification of the degree, in the ratio 1: 2 for students who entered Stage 2 in or after September 2011, and in the ratio 1:1 for students who entered Stage 2 before September 2011.

Common Marking Scheme

The University employs a common marking scheme, which is specified in the Undergraduate Examination Conventions, namely

	Modules used for degree classification (DC)	Modules not used for degree classification
<40	Fail	Failing
40-49	Third Class	Basic
50-59	Second Class, Second Division	Good
60-69	Second Class, First Division	Very Good
70+	First Class	Excellent

Role of the External Examiner

An External Examiner, a distinguished member of the subject community, is appointed by Faculty Teaching and Learning Committee, following recommendation from the Board of Studies. The External Examiner is expected to:

- i. See and approve assessment papers
- ii. Moderate examination and coursework marking
- iii. Attend the Board of Examiners
- iv. Report to the University on the standards of the programme

In addition, information relating to the programme is provided in:

The University Prospectus: <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/undergraduate/>

The School Brochure: <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/marketing/services/print/publications/ordering/>

Degree Programme and University Regulations: <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/regulations/docs/>

The Degree Programme Handbook

Please note. This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and of the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve if she/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities provided. The accuracy of the information contained is reviewed by the University and may be checked by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education.
