6. enables students to develop confidence in communicating with native speakers
7. encourages students to undertake self-evaluation to help them analyse their progress
8. provides students with subject specific knowledge to prepare them for under graduate study .

11 Learning Outcomes

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, skills and other attributes in the following areas.

Knowledge and Understanding

On completing the programme students should:

- A1 have a knowledge and understanding of selected aspects of economics, marketing, management and organisation, and quantitative methods
- A2 have an appreciation of the culture of UK higher education and its expectations of students
- A3 have an understanding of English grammar and vocabulary, including the conventions of academic English
- A4 understand the basic requirements for writing a competent essay or report

Teaching and Learning Methods

Knowledge and understanding is primarily taught through lectures supported by reading, seminar discussion and study clinics. English is primarily taught in smaller classes and reinforced through practice. The final project involves student research.

Assessment Strategy

Knowledge and understanding is assessed primarily through written coursework, tests and examinations, but also through presentations and the project.

Intellectual Skills
On completing the programme students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> B1 Use and interpret data B2 Evaluate arguments and evidence in written/spoken texts B3 Read academic texts with some degree of analytical skill B4 Argue a case orally or in writing B5 Use quantitative techniques related to business issues
Teaching and Learning Methods
These skills are best taught and learned through practice. The Study Skills module will provide students with advice on what is expected of UK students and strategies for developing these skills. The project in particular reinforces B1- B4.
Assessment Strategy
The project provides a key piece of assessment of the development of intellectual skills, in addition to other pieces of coursework and oral presentations. The Study Skills module will assess B1 to B4 in particular. The Quantitative Methods module directly assesses B5.
Practical Skills
On completing the programme students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> C1 Develop strategies for effective note taking in lectures and seminars C2 Read and take notes from an academic text C3 Take part in a discussion in a seminar or tutorial context C4 Write an essay or report in an academic context in understandable English following the conventions of essay or report writing. C5 Present ideas and arguments in a clear and logical manner in written and oral English C6 Apply proper referencing and other aspects of good academic practice
Teaching and Learning Methods
The Study Skills module will deliver C1, but the lessons learned will be reinforced in all the other modules. The English language skills will be taught through the English for Academic Purposes (Diploma) module largely through small group teaching with plenty of practice. However, every other module will also use and reinforce these skills. Not only will students be taught how to develop these skills, but the academic modules will provide opportunities to put these skills into practice. C6 will be taught through the Study Skills module, and in some of the EAP modules.
Assessment Strategy
English language competency will be tested directly on an IELTS equivalent basis in the English for Academic Purposes (Diploma) module using a mixture of tests and coursework and covering reading, writing, speaking and listening. Other modules will indirectly assess English language competence and the ability to take notes and use sources, as they all require an ability to express ideas in English.
Transferable/Key Skills
On completing the programme students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> D1 work as a member of a team with colleagues from other backgrounds and cultures D2 make oral presentations D3 use IT skills effectively D4 manage their time effectively D5 use library and information sources effectively D6 think and work effectively on their own when required D7 communicate effectively with native speakers D8 analyse their own strengths and weaknesses and take action accordingly

Teaching and Learning Methods
The Study Skills module's lectures will introduce students to these key skills and provide guidance on techniques, with practice occurring largely in the other modules and in small group teaching on the Study Skills module.
Assessment Strategy
Some groupwork is required and students' success in working in teams will therefore be assessed via the quality of the end product. Several assessed oral presentations are built into the module. D3-D6 will be assessed via coursework assessment and in particular through the project. The Study Skills module will assess teamwork and essay writing. Communication with native speakers will also be developed through the EAP modules and through extra-curricular activities. D8 will be developed particularly via the Study Skills module.

Academic support

The initial point of contact for a student is with a lecturer or module leader, or their Personal Tutor (see below) for more generic issues. Thereafter the Programme Manager or Academic Director may be consulted. Issues relating to the programme may be raised at the Staff-Student Committee, and/or at the Board of Studies.

Pastoral support

All students are assigned a Personal Tutor whose responsibility is to monitor the academic performance and overall well-being of their tutees. Details of the personal tutor system can be found at <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/undergraduate/support/tutor.phtml>. Personal Tutors will support students to make applications to Newcastle and elsewhere through UCAS.

INTO Newcastle also employs a Welfare Officer who is available to offer help and guide students to the range of support services offered by Newcastle University. These include the Student Advice Centre, the Counselling and Wellbeing team, the Mature Student Support Officer, and a Childcare Support Officer, see

<http://www.ncl.ac.uk/undergraduate/support/welfare.phtml>

Support for students with disabilities

The University's Disability Support Service provides help and advice for disabled students at the University - and those thinking of coming to Newcastle. It provides individuals with: advice about the University's facilities, services and the accessibility of campus; details about the technical support available; guidance in study skills and advice on financial support arrangements; a resources room with equipment and software to assist students in their studies. For further details see <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/disability-support/>

15 Methods for evaluating and improving the quality and standards of teaching and learning

Module reviews

All modules are subject to review by questionnaires which are considered by the Board of Studies. Changes to, or the introduction of new, modules are considered at the School Teaching and Learning Committee and at the Board of Studies. Student opinion is sought at the Staff-Student Committee and/or the Board of Studies. New modules and major changes to existing modules are subject to approval by the Cross-Faculty Teaching, Learning and Student Experience Committee.

Programme reviews

The Board of Studies conducts an Annual Monitoring and Review of the programme and reports to the Cross-Faculty Teaching, Learning and Student Experience Committee. The FTLSEC takes an overview of all programmes within the Faculty and reports any Faculty or institutional issues to the University Teaching and Learning Committee.

External Examiner reports

External Examiner reports are considered by the Board of Studies. The Board responds to these reports through Cross-Faculty Teaching, Learning and Student Experience Committee. External Examiner reports are shared with institutional student representatives, through the Staff-Student Committee.

Student evaluations

All modules, and the degree programme, are subject to review by student questionnaires. Informal student evaluation is also obtained at the Staff-Student Committee, and the Board of Studies.

Mechanisms for gaining student feedback

Feedback is channelled via the Staff-Student Committee and the Board of Studies.

Faculty and University Review Mechanisms

The programme is subject to the University's Internal Subject Review process. Every five years degree programmes in each subject area are subject to periodic review. This involves both the detailed consideration of a range of documentation, and a two-day review visit by a review team which includes an external subject specialist in addition to University and Faculty representatives. Following the review a report is produced, which forms the basis for a decision by University Teaching and Learning Committee on whether the programmes reviewed should be re-approved for a further five year period. See <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/quilt/resources/monitoring/internal.htm>

Pass mark

Academic modules

Modules will be marked on a 0-100 scale. The pass mark for academic modules is 40. The following forms of assessment may be used: class tests, seen and unseen examinations, coursework, oral tests, presentations, group-work.

English for Academic Purposes (Diploma)

This module is internally assessed, using Newcastle's English Language Proficiency Scale (and benchmarked against IELTS). In order to progress to a Newcastle University degree programme the pass mark is 70.

Satisfactory completion of the Diploma requires that:

- (a) the average mark over all academic modules, taking due account of the credit value, is not less than 40;
- (b) no single mark for any academic module is below 35;
- (c) marks of less than 40 are compensated in academic modules, provided the total credit value of these modules does not exceed 20;
- (d) the average mark for English for Academic Purposes is not less than 65 (equivalent to IELTS 6.0) with no competence (reading, writing, listening and speaking) below 60
- (e) no compensation for English for Academic Purposes is permitted

A student who fails a module will be able to have one further attempt to achieve a pass for that module. Students will not be permitted to proceed to a degree programme at Newcastle University carrying a failure in any module.
