A welcome message from the In-Sessional English Programme Manager

We are delighted to welcome you to Newcastle University. The In-Sessional English team is here to help you to effectively communicate knowledge of your subject area. We help you to bridge the gap between general English and the academic English needed to succeed in UK university life.

Depending on your score in the University English Language Assessment UELA, you will be able to attend up to ten hours of support classes each week. All of this support is free and aims to help you achieve your full academic potential. Make sure you take full advantage of it!

We offer courses that range from lecture-style to workshop-format, covering reading, writing, listening and speaking. We also offer 1-to-1 writing tutorials, where you can meet a teacher for 25 minutes to discuss specific problems that you are encountering with your written assignments. For further details about the specific support available to you, please refer to the contents list on the opposite page.

We wish you all the best with your studies and hope you enjoy your time at Newcastle.

The UELA
University English Language Assessment

Do I have to?
As stated in the University English Language Policy (http://www.ncl.ac.uk/international/courses/language/policy), all non-native speakers of English who are arriving at Newcastle University must take the UELA unless they can show evidence that they meet one of the following criteria for exemption:

- Completion of an INTO Newcastle University preparatory programme, including Pre-Sessional English, English for University Study, International Foundation, International Diploma, or Graduate Diploma within the last two years.
- Taken the UELA at any time since September 2016
- Achieved one of the following results within the last two years:
  - IELTS: 7.0 (or above) in all four skills
  - Integrated Skills in English - Trinity College London ISE III or ISE IV
  - Continuation of study on a Degree Programme at a Newcastle University campus overseas, such as NUMed or NUIS
  - Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English, Grade A or B
  - Cambridge Advanced Certificate, Grade A
  - GCSE, A or A* Level in English or English Language, Grade C or above
- Successful completion, within the last 12 months, of either an undergraduate degree (with a 2.1 or higher), a postgraduate degree or at least five years of secondary / higher education through the medium of English in one of the countries listed below:
  - Antigua and Barbuda, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Canada, Dominica, Grenada, Guyana, Ireland, Jamaica, New Zealand, St Kitts and Nevis, St Lucia, St Vincent and the Grenadines, Trinidad and Tobago, United Kingdom, United States of America

How do I exempt myself?
Please note that if you exempt yourself from the UELA, you will not be able to take any In-Sessional classes.

- From Wednesday 19th September until 12pm on Friday 28th September, there will be a dedicated exemptions desk next to Lecture Theatre 3 in the Herschel Building. You must bring the original documents that support your exemption request.
- From Monday 1st October until Friday 19th October, there will be a member of staff available on the ground floor of the INTO Building between 11am and 1pm.
- If you would like to apply for an exemption after 19th October, please email your supporting documentation to insessional@ncl.ac.uk

What happens if I don’t take the UELA?
Newcastle University takes the language support of non-native speaker students very seriously. If you have not taken the UELA by Friday 19th October 2018 for Semester 1 registrations or Friday 15th February 2019 for Semester 2 registrations, you will be referred to the University Student Progress department. You will receive daily reminder emails until you have either taken the UELA or obtained an exemption.

What next?

How will I get my results?
- You will receive your UELA results in an email sent to your Newcastle University email account.
- The email will include your scores, levels and some advice as to which In-Sessional classes are most suitable for you.
- We aim to do this within four working days of your UELA session.
- UELA results are also sent to your Academic School to help your personal tutors advise you on whether you may benefit from In-Sessional classes.

How should I register for classes?
The registration process varies according to the sessions that you would like to attend. Please refer to pages 6 - 42 for details of the support available to you and how to register.

Note: All In-Sessional provision is arranged on a first come, first served basis. The sooner you register, the more likely there will be availability in the classes you wish to join.

For further details, visit: www.ncl.ac.uk/students/insessional/uela/exemptions.htm

Where/when?

What do I need to take to the UELA?
- Your university smart card as identification.
- If you do not have your university smart card, you need to bring:
  - your self-service registration print out or your university offer letter and photo ID, such as your passport.
- All documents must be originals. They will be taken from you as you enter the room and returned to you at the end of the UELA session.

When and where can I take the UELA?
Please choose a time from the schedule below. You must arrive 10 minutes before the start of the session. Latecomers will not be admitted.

The duration of the assessment is approximately 2 hours.

Please note that these times may be subject to last minute changes. An up-to-date version of the UELA schedule is available at:

www.ncl.ac.uk/students/insessional/uela/schedule.htm

Please note that courses for which students are automatically registered are not listed here. You will find details about courses on which you have automatically been registered on your personal timetable.
You will be advised by your school if you are required to take one of our credit-bearing English modules. The day, time and location of your class will show on your University timetable.

Please note that University regulations state that students with a UELA score of 70 or higher in the relevant skill are not permitted to register for these credit-bearing modules.

Credit-bearing modules available:

- Credit-bearing: Academic Reading and Writing, Part A (INU1004 / INU1014) An introduction to written academic English skills, which focuses on essay writing
- Credit-bearing: Academic Reading and Writing, Part B (INU1005) Further development of written academic English, which provides input on writing up primary research
- Credit-bearing: Listening, Speaking and Presentation Skills (INU1008) An introduction to academic listening and speaking skills, which outlines the process of preparing and delivering an academic presentation
- Credit-bearing: Listening, Speaking and Seminar Skills (INU1009) An introduction to academic seminar speaking skills, which supports the development of managing small-group discussions
- Credit-bearing: Writing Dissertations for Science & Engineering (INU8001) An introduction to the language and structure of academic dissertations in the fields of Science and Engineering.

Requirements for passing these courses:

All In-Sessional credit-bearing modules have one two-hour class per week. There is a minimum attendance requirement of 75%. Each module has a final exam and/or a piece of coursework. Full details are available in the student handbook on Blackboard.
